COUNTRY Austria (Scriet Ione) Place OBTAINED Place OBTAINED ATE OF CONTENT Boventer 1953 to March 1954 ATE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED ARE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED ARE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED ARE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED AS April 1954 634023 REMARKS AGES 2 ENCLOSURES (No. a TYPE) REMARKS 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutoch Wagram and Parndorf sirfleids; 1 lighter division headquarters in Minner Meustadt with the porteining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a codre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the tasis of this information, the individual lighter units are now believed to be 1000 the 1000	COUNTRY_Austria (Soviet Lone) REPORT_NO TOPICFighter Regiments Stationed in the Soviet Zone of Austria	(1
TOPIC Fighter Regiments Stationed in the Sowiet Zone of Fustria EVALUATION PLACE OBTAINED 25X1 63402 DATE OF CONTENT November 1953 to March 1954 DATE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED 26 April 1954 634023 REFERENCES REMARKS 2 ENCLOSURES (NO. & TYPE) REMARKS 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wegram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Whener Neustadt with the perteining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the tasts of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to the cated as follows: 10th Cos Ftt May with the 111th and 113th Cos Ftr Fegts in Whener Neustadt and the 112th Cos Ftr Regt in Farndorf; the headquarters of onother fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.	COUNTRY Austria (Soviet Zone) REPORT NO TOPIC Fighter Regiments Stationed in the Soviet Zone of Austria
EVALUATION PLACE OBTAINED 25X1 63402 DATE OF CONTENT November 1953 to March 1954 DATE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED 26 April 1954 634023 REFERENCES PAGES 2 ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 1 The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Appern with 1 regiment each at Appern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Newstadt with the portaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cafer unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be a cated as follows: 10th Gas Ftyl with the 111th and 113th Gas Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Farndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.	TOPIC Fighter Regiments Stationed in the Soviet Zone of Austria
PLACE OBTAINED 25X1 63402 DATE OF CONTENT November 1953 to March 1954 DATE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED 26 April 1954 634023 REFERENCES PAGES 2 ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 1 The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Appern with 1 regiment each at Appern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Newstadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cafer unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the tasis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be cated as follows: 10th Gas Ftyring with the 111th end 113th Gas Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Farndorf; the headquarters of enother fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch
DATE OF CONTENT November 1953 to March 1954 DATE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED 26 April 1954 634023 REFERENCES PAGES 2 ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the perteining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the tasis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Cds Ftyliq with the 11th and 113th Cds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Cds Ftr Regt in Farndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch	PUALITATION	************
DATE OF CONTENT November 1953 to March 1954 DATE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED 26 April 1954 634023 REFERENCES PAGES 2 ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the perteining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the tasis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Cds Ftyliq with the 11th and 113th Cds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Cds Ftr Regt in Farndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch	EVALUATIONPLACE OBTAINED 25X1	AND THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN
DATE OBTAINED DATE PREPARED 26 April 1954 634023 REFERENCES PAGES 2 ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 25X1 1. The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the perteining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadra unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the tasts of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Cds Ftd Ying with the 111th end 113th Cds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Cds Ftr Regt in Farndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch		023
EMARKS 2 ENCLOSURES (NO. & TYPE) EMARKS 25X1 1. The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Whener Weustadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftr/Hq with the 111th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Whener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.	DATE ORTAINED	123
25X1 1. The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the perteining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Cds Ftr Ma with the 11th and 113th Cds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Cds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.	EFERENCES DATE PREPARED 20 ADFIT 1952
25X1 1. The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the perteining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftr May with the 111th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch	PAGES 2 ENGLOSUPES AND A TITTLE	New York (1944)
25X1 1. The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Miener Neustadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftr/Hq with the 111th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch	THE COURT (NO. & TIPE)
25X1 l. The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftw Hig with the 111th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.
25X1 1. The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the tasis of this information, the individual fighter units are now relieved to be located as follows: 10th Cds Ftr/Hq with the 111th and 113th Cds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Cds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.	All the second of the second o
25X1 1. The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows: 1 fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the tasis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftr/Nq with the 111th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.		Cont. Market Market States
l fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftr/Hq with the 111th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.
l fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftr/Hq with the 111th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.
l fighter division headquarters in Aspern with 1 regiment each at Aspern, Deutsch Wagram and Parndorf airfields; 1 fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftr/Hq with the 111th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.
I fighter division headquarters in Wiener Neustadt with the pertaining 3 regiments at the same location; the third regiment was believed to be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftr/Mq with the 111th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustadt and the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 regiment each in Aspern and Deutsch Wagram.	25X1 1. The Soviet fighter units in Austria were previously believed to be located as follows:
25X1	be a cadre unit. This assumption of the location of Soviet fighter units has now been disproved by Soviet documents recently obtained. On the basis of this information, the individual fighter units are now believed to be located as follows: 10th Gds Ftr/Nq with the 11th and 113th Gds Ftr Fegts in Wiener Neustand the 112th Gds Ftr Regt in Parndorf; the headquarters of another fighter division is probably stationed in Aspern; the division is superior to 1 received to the second of the superior to 1 received to the second of the superior to 1 received to the second of the superior to 1 received to the second of the superior to 1 received to the second of the superior to 1 received to the second of the superior to 1 received to the second of the seco
	25X1

SECRET - 2	-		25X1
			,
		SECRET 2

b. According to all observations made, the Fifty-Ninth Air Army has 3 fighter divisions, including 1 in Hungary, 1 at Wiener Neustadt airfield, and 1 in the area east of Vienna. Resides Wiener Neustadt end Parndorf airfields, only Aspern and Deutsch Wegram airfields are occupied by fighter units. This tends to indicate that the units at the latter two airfields telong to one division.

The division headquarters is telieved to be located in Aspern. A third regiment of this division has not been determined.

25X1 SECRET